Review of Scoring Criteria

Personal Qualities

20 points

(Appearance, Poise, Personality, Attitude)

All contestants should wear appropriate business attire. Judges should consider the personal impact the contestant makes. The contestant should display a relaxed and self-confident manner and makes no mistakes. When minor mistakes are made, does the contestant quickly recover and display little or no tension?

Organization of Material

30 points

(Adherence to Subject, Theme, Logic and Flow of Material)

In this category, the material and its organization as presented by the contestant should be judged. A judge should consider the importance of adherence to the subject of the speech, the proper introduction, and the logic and coherent development of the theme, which brings about a successful and adequate conclusion. Figures of speech, similes, metaphors, colorful choice of words and zestful, descriptive phrases are important qualities.

Delivery and Presentation

30 points

(Voice, Pronunciation, Enunciation, Gestures, Emphasis)

Delivery and presentation shall be judged on several factors. Voice quality should be recognized in tone, pitch, and volume. Delivery should be continuous without hesitation or halting. Pronunciation and enunciation are important. Gestures should be appraised for frequency, nature, and effectiveness. Movement and gestures should not be awkward. A desire to be convincing should be obvious; therefore, emphasis should be well placed and dynamic.

Overall Effectiveness

20 points

(Impression, Effect, Appeal)

In this category, the overall impression created by the speaker and the speech should be rated. In any competition of this type, the overall impression of a specific effect is a result of many factors, some which are indefinable and inexpressible and cannot be individually scored. Yet the final impression persists and is important. The opening and closing statements should capture the attention of the audience and set the mood. The speaker should hold the attention of the entire audience with the use of direct eye contact.

Penalty Explanations:

Use of props, costumes, etc.

The use of props, special costumes or clothing, or the use of Teleprompters will not be permitted. The penalty is disqualification. Speakers may use notes.

Self- Identification

To eliminate any bias or prejudice, no speech or part of a speech may be used to identify the contestant, chapter, city or family. This does not include nationality or religion. For example, "My father the mayor" would be considered self-identification and must be assessed a penalty. The penalty is a 5 points deduction by each judge based on the degree of self-identification.

Time penalties

The time limit for speeches is not to be less than 3 minutes or over 5 minutes in length. Contestants going over or under the time limit will not be cautioned, but will be penalized one point for each 15 seconds or portion thereof over or under the limits. These penalties will be recorded by the timekeeper.

Failure to announce the official topic at the beginning of the speech

To assist the timekeeper in establishing a uniform starting time, all contestants must express the official topic of the speech before beginning the speech. The timekeeper for failure to state the official topic must assess a 3-point penalty.

Videotaping and Photography Guidelines

The taping of speeches by family or chapter members is permissible, and should be done in a non-obtrusive manner so that the speakers, judges or the audience are not distracted.
